

The river conducts better than its feedback-cut control, but it is not a glider: the damage packet disperses instead of translating

(a) damage width: superdiffusive, not ballistic

(b) centroid wanders ($\sim dt^{0.56}$), does not translate

(c) one cone: the centroid drifts, the packet disperses

